Ski/Snowboard Area Checklist Information

Definitions for Ski/Snowboard areas:

Staging area - a level area for putting on or removing equipment. It should be located near the base facility and have an access route from the staging area to the lift serving the easiest trails. It is an area where someone could transfer from their wheelchair to a monoski.

PSIA/AASI (Professional Ski Instructors of America and the American Association of Snowboard Instructors) certifies instructors in adaptive techniques. Certification is at three levels.

Additional information for completing the Ski/Snowboard checklist:

Measure the height of the chair lift from the ground by the “load here” point to the top of the chair cushion. See Figure One below.
